A: If it is a structural problem, then it is out of the scope of the BSE tags. Those questions are better suited for the site www.engineering.stackexchange.com. Your question as it is would be on topic in there. My answer there will be more than you need, but a few links for you to see how they approach structurally sound bridges: Landed Structure used for rivers, canals and so forth Directional Stiffness Functional Domino Effect and Stiffness Structure Stiffness Bridges Bridge Structural Design Leo You Governin' Leo You Governin' is the sixth studio album by American singer and songwriter Tim McGraw. It was released on April 9, 2013. Its lead single, "Something Like That", was released on January 29, 2013. The song was co-written by McGraw and Taylor Swift. The album debuted at number one on the Billboard 200, giving him his seventh number one album and his third consecutive number one album. The album features a guest appearance by his wife Faith Hill on the track "She Won't Go". Critical reception Leo You Governin' received mostly positive reviews from critics. At Metacritic, which assigns a normalized rating out of 100 to reviews from mainstream publications, the album received an average score of 68, based on 21 reviews, which indicates "generally favorable reviews". AllMusic critic Stephen Thomas Erlewine awarded the album four stars out of five, and said, "After two consecutive number-one albums, it's good to hear McGraw return to his country leanings with a record that not only sounded like a natural next step for him but also seemed downright necessary." Peter Rowan of Now praised McGraw's vocal delivery and said, "McGraw sounds more relaxed than he has in a long time." At USA Today, Elysa Gardner said, "If it's a family affair, it's a healthy one." K. Ross Hoffman of Country Weekly called the album "the worthy follow-up to McGraw's 2012 masterpiece, TCM." At Rolling Stone, David Fricke said, "Like the music behind the songs, the 10 new tracks bring a comfortably expansive range, from ballads to brasher, faster-tempo numbers, with an upbeat toe-tapper or two." At The Boot, Joshua Bote said, "The
